Luis Nacht Trio is an international contemporary jazz ensemble featuring Argentine saxophonist Luis Nacht, bassist Demian Cabaud, and drummer Jeff Williams. With no harmonic instrument, the trio embraces free improvisation and spontaneous dialogue, crafting an open, unpredictable, and deeply expressive sound.

In 2024, they embarked on their first European tour, performing in venues across Portugal and Spain, including Nova Jazz Cava, Jimmy Glass, and Maus Hábitos. During that journey, they recorded their debut studio album in Barcelona, presenting original compositions that reflect the trio's raw and direct musical approach.

This project brings together three firmly established voices in the international jazz scene. Nacht is a key figure in Argentine jazz; Cabaud is a member of the Orquestra Jazz de Matosinhos in Portugal; and Williams has played with legends like Stan Getz, Lee Konitz, and Dave Liebman. Their music is a celebration of risk, deep listening, and creative freedom.

Furtivo

Furtivo was born during their 2024 European tour, when Luis Nacht, Demian Cabaud, and Jeff Williams decided to capture the spontaneous chemistry of their live performances in a studio session in Barcelona. With no harmonic instrument and complete expressive freedom, the trio embraced an open musical language where each sound emerges in real time.

Recorded at Vértigo Estudio, the album features original compositions that showcase the trio's maturity and deep musical connection. With a raw and unfiltered aesthetic, Furtivo is an exploration of contemporary jazz through risk, attentive interplay, and fearless improvisation.

More than a studio document, Furtivo is a statement of intent: a music without gimmicks, alive and constantly evolving. A vivid testimony to what happens when three unique voices converge into a shared creative impulse.
