The Burnett Sisters Band's debut national release, Easy Come, Easy Go, is a bold and beautifully crafted collection that showcases the next generation of traditional music torchbearers. Signed to Pinecastle Records and fresh off a finalist nomination for IBMA Emerging Artist of the Year, the band's momentum is undeniable--supported by growing national airplay, including heavy rotation on SiriusXM Bluegrass Junction.

Rooted in the Appalachian traditions of bluegrass, folk, and old-time music, Easy Come, Easy Go blends award-winning musicianship with signature family harmony and genre-spanning range. From haunting originals like "Whispering Wind" and "Sorrow, Grief and Pain" by Geary Allen to soaring tunes like Anneli Burnett's "Song of the Mountains," each track reflects a reverence for tradition and a fearless drive toward creative evolution. Their fiery take on classics like "Lovesick Blues" and a high-energy fiddle medley on "Julianne Johnson/Tie Your Dog, Sally Gal" further showcase the band's rootsy diversity.

The album is steeped in sonic richness and studio excellence. Produced in part by ETSU's Dan Boner, the project reflects both polish and passion, resonating with authenticity and heart.

The Burnett Sisters Band has spent over a decade cultivating their sound on stages across the U.S., Canada, and the U.K., winning top honors at MerleFest and Galax Fiddlers Convention, and mentoring the next generation through ETSU's Roots Music Program and Junior Appalachian Musicians.

Easy Come, Easy Go is more than a debut--it's a declaration. With its mix of originals, traditionals, and timeless storytelling, this is an album that will move your feet and stir your soul.
