Swing à la Django presents a vibrant crossover album that brings together virtuosic gypsy jazz, classical masterpieces, world music influences, and outstanding guest performances.

Following their acclaimed performance at Carnegie Hall in New York in January 2026, Swing à la Django further expands its unique musical vision, blending gypsy jazz, classical repertoire, and world music influences into a distinctive crossover experience.

From the uplifting energy of the original song Save The World to the elegance of Puccini's O Mio Babbino Caro featuring internationally acclaimed soprano Andrea Rost, and a fresh, swing-infused interpretation of Mack the Knife featuring West End star Bradley Jaden, the album showcases the band's unique ability to unite different musical traditions in a distinctive and contemporary sound.

The journey continues through dynamic reimaginings of Antonio Vivaldi's Summer and Winter concertos, alongside instrumental interpretations of beloved classics such as Over the Rainbow and Sabor a Mi. Throughout the album, Swing à la Django blends technical brilliance, improvisational freedom, and emotional expression, creating a musical experience that is both sophisticated and accessible.

Featuring acclaimed guest artists from the worlds of classical music, jazz, world music, and musical theatre, Swing à la Django celebrates the power of music to transcend genres, cultures, and generations. The album reflects the ensemble's unmistakable artistic identity: a seamless fusion of classical elegance, jazz improvisation, gypsy virtuosity, and contemporary crossover creativity.

A captivating collection for listeners who appreciate virtuosity, musical exploration, and timeless melodies presented from a fresh perspective.
